Weather and water conditions:

Always verify the weather and water conditions in the area you will be boating. Your kayak is only designed for use in sheltered waters, lakes and slow moving streams. Your kayak is not recommended for white water use. NEVER go kayaking in severe winds, rain, thunderstorms, choppy waters, strong currents, flood waters, or where tides will seriously affect your ability to steer your kayak back to shore.

SAFETY MEASURES AND WARNING

All paddle sports can be dangerous and physically challenging. Paddle sports can cause serious injuries or death if appropriate safety measures are not followed.

We recommend that you receive instruction in proper padding techniques, safety and security on the water and first aid techniques before using your kayak.

Our Owner's Manual gives you a summary of the important points to follow for a pleasant and safe experience.

Hypothermia

Hypothermia is a dangerous drop in the body's core temperature below the normal level (37°C or 98.6°F). Hypothermia occurs when the body is subjected to prolonged exposure to cold weather and body temperature drops below 35°C or 95°F. Marine accidents are very dangerous and can be more so if you are poorly prepared for the cold water.

Location

Before setting out, make sure you are familiar with your surroundings. Be aware of permitted navigation hours, emergency services, and locate the danger zones.

Physical Capacity

Realistically evaluate your physical capacities and resistance should you have to swim to the shore. However, it is safer to stay with your kayak.

Slippery Hull

Your kayak becomes extremely slippery when wet. Therefore, it is recommended that you wear slip-resistant shoes and that you remain in the middle of your kayak at all times.

Do not stand in your kayak

Your kayak may capsize if you stand in it.

Children

Never allow children to kayak without adult supervision.

Product safety information label

Your kayak comes with a label containing important safety information. This label must stay permanently on your kayak.

Coast guard regulations

Always abide by Coast Guard regulations, State and local laws, ordinances, and rules concerning boating and boating safety.

MAINTENANCE AND STORAGE

Maintenance

The best way to clean your kayak is with water. However, with tougher stains you can use some soft soap and a non-abrasive plastic brush.

Storage

The easiest way to store your kayak is to sit it on a flat surface. If your kayak remains outdoors, you should keep it covered and out of direct sunlight. Do not leave any straps tightly cinched around your kayak for long periods, especially in warm weather. This can distort the shape of the kayak.

Warning

You may find an accumulation of water between the hull and the deck due to paddle handling, rain, or condensation. No Limits kayaks are equipped with drain plugs to remove this accumulated water.

To empty the water from your kayak, remove the drain plug and prop up the kayak vertically on its stern
